A Wedding.

Last Sunday morning Nathan W. Tarr and Helen A. Tolman were married at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. H. H. Watkins, Judge Blakely performing the ceremony. The young couple are known to all our people and none are so popular as they. The wedding was a quiet one, only intimate friends being present. After receiving congratulations of the guests the young couple left for White Hills where they will make their home. May their life be as smooth as a deep running river.

Al. James and Mr. Thomas are up from the Planet country, where they have located a big copper property. They are already down sixty-five feet in a straight shaft and expect to strike the ledge at a depth of less than one hundred feet. The ledge on the surface is an immense one, but where the boys are sinking the surface has been eroded to a considerable depth. James Rosborough and others own locations on the same lode.

Alder Randall died in Downey, Calif., a few days ago. Mr. Randall, many years ago, was in the mercantile business in Mineral Park with his brother-in-law, A. E. Davis. When the Tombstone excitement broke out he went to that place and afterward removed to Downey, where he resided until his death. Many old timers will remember jolly, good-natured Alder Randall and will feel a pang of regret at his death.

Mr. Bumgartner came in from Cheme-huevis mountains last Monday after supplies. He says the big placer camp is enjoying a good healthy growth and that many of the dry washer brigade are taking out big money. Lattin and DeFrance gulch is increasing in richness as deep gravel is being reached and the boys will clean up thousands of dollars during the dry season.

James Rosborough came in Monday night from The Manse, Nevada, where he has been searching for Mouse. He has had Indian trailers searching the whole country the past two weeks, but no trace of the red hind could be found. Many of the old residents believe that Mouse is in San Bernardino mountains. Sheriff Keyes, of Needles, will probably take up the chase.

The W. H. Taggart Mercantile Company and Gaddis & Perry started beer and ice wagons to White Hills Wednesday night, and hereafter that camp will be supplied with ice and beer by the two firms. Five cent beer will soon be dispensed in Kingman.

J. H. Phillips, of Hackberry, died in Flagstaff Thursday night. His burial takes place at Hackberry this evening and Rev. W. G. Blakely has been sent for to conduct the service at the grave. The late Mr. Phillips was known to all the old timers of Mohave county, by whom he was universally loved and respected. For a year past he has been in failing health and his visit to Flagstaff was made in the hope that a new lease of life would be given him, but it was not to be. May he rest well in his last peaceful sleep.

The Galveston News waxes eloquent when referring to the production of Texas. It says: The "grand old state of Texas will give to each inhabitant one bale of cotton, six bushels of wheat, forty bushels of corn," etc. The News should qualify its assertion to comport with fact. Texas could give to each inhabitant all the necessary things enumerated, but the fact is not one in a thousand gets his share.

A man, who said his name was North, came to Kingman about a week ago and proceeded to have a good time. He deposited a check for fifty dollars with F. E. Austin. He gave orders against the check until it was taken up. The check was signed "J. P. Finegan." William Larkin got eighty dollars worth of the "Finegan" checks and several others took the paper without question. It now transpires that the checks were forgeries, but Mr. North has gone, no one knows where. He has a very light complexion, wears a light mustache and goatee and is baldheaded; is about five feet eight or nine inches in height. Officers are on the lookout for him.

Word was received yesterday in Kingman by H. J. Dalamer that the Colorado river had fallen four and one-half feet in the past few days. From Green River, Wyo., it is reported that Green river has fallen over four feet but it is expected that it will rise again before the week is out. A fall of six feet in the river at Temple Bar will enable the company to anchor the glance boom and assure to them a prosperous summer's hydraulic gravel mining.
